

ALMOST $100 FOR FOUNTAIN

Delsarte Entertainment Was A Financial Success.

FINE LOCAL SHOW

Songs, Reading, Tableaux,
Drills and a Round
of Fun.

The Delsarte entertainment at the Opera House Tuesday evening under the directions of Mrs. A. D. Reid in conjunction with Mrs. Chas. M.
Meacham, of the Drinking Fountain
Committee of the Christian County Chapter U. D. C. was a success in every respect.

The fountain fund was increased by about $94 as the result of the entertainment. This amount increases the fountain fund to about $530 and the committee is about
ready to take up the work of erecting the proposed fountain this summer.

The program of drills, songs, and recitations was carried out in a most delightful manner. There were tableaux, pantomimes and gesture
songs of many kinds, all making attractive features of one of the best
local shows given for many months.
Two of the hits of the evening were
the recitations of little Misses Elizabeth Abernathy in "Walking up Main Street" and Susan Owsley in
"Miss Furbelow."

There were Grecian Drills, Rose Drills, Dude Drills and Guess What Drills, the latter concluding the performance with a take-off of the young ladies by sixteen young ladies as fashionably dressed
ladies.

Mrs. L. E. Foster, Miss Emma Noe
and the "Citizens Quartette"— Messrs. Duke, Clark, Barnett and Foster—all assisted with charming numbers of vocal music.

Miss Edna Cayce and Miss Nora
Higgins, accomplished elocutionists,
gave delightful readings. Altogether the program was pleasing
from start to finish and was thoroughly enjoyed by a packed house.

The more style some people put on
the more collectors they put off.

W. C. DOHERTY FOR PRESIDENT

Post J. Will Endorse "Live
Wire" Hopkinsvillian
For Head

OF KY. DIVISION T. P. A.

Pearl City Entitled To The Honor This Time and Will Go After It.

Post J. Kentucky Division of the T. P. A. of this city, will put forward as a candidate for President of the Division, a Hopkinsvillian, one of the liveliest wires among all of the traveling men of the state. Post J.
will meet Monday night and endorse
W. C. Doherty, local representative of the Simmons Hardware Co., for the place. Mr. Doherty is a typical example of the young men who are making Progressive Hopkinsville the most talked of and prosperous city
in Kentucky. He has on more than one occasion taken Hopkinsville as his text for after-dinner speeches and never fails to make a hit. He is popular at home and abroad, is widely known and in every way a fit
representative of the spirit of "The Only Town on the Map."

His friends will get behind him
strong for the honor and show to the Association that it could not be conferred upon a better qualified or more deserving man.

CORN CONTEST

Will be Discussed at a meeting This Evening.

A meeting will be held to-night,
at the call of Miss Jennie West,
County Superintendent of Schools,
in the Superintendent's office, to consider the proposed corn show for boys and a chrysanthemum show
for girls of Christian county. The corporation of the business men is necessary to have the contests put
on foot.

MILL CASE HARD FOUGHT

Is Rragging Along Slowly in Circuit Court This Week.

TESTIMONY CONFLICTS.

Outcome of The Trial is Involved in Much Doubt.

Circuit Court has been occupied
this week with the case of R. H. De-Treville charged with embezzlement,
in connection with the failure of the Acme Mills & Elevator Co.

Geo. D. Dalton, P. H. Parker, C.
M. Hill, C. H. Dietrich and Allen B.
Fisher, the latter the expert accountant, were the witnesses for the commonwealth.

While Prof. Dietrich and Mr.
Fisher were on the stand Judge C.
H. Bush was fined $35 for his manner of interrogating witnesses.
Prof. Dietrich took one of his questions as a reflection on him and told
Mr. Bush that he would not stand for any insinuations. Judge Han-bery then warned Mr. Bush not to "quarrel with witnesses" and a little later fined him $5 and when he protested added $5 more. At this
Mr. Bush rose and made some remarks that were taken by the court
as coming under a charge of contempt of court and he added $25 more.
Court was then adjourned until
morning for things to "cool off."

Mr. Fisher concluded his testimony Tuesday and the defense began by putting Mr. DeTreville on the stand and yesterday Mr. J. B.
Galbreath was the chief witness.

The charge is that Messrs. De-Treville and Galbreath, two of the five directors holding two proxies,
increased the President's salary $500
in November 1904 and Mr. Fisher stated that a dividend was declared
in 1907 when the mill showed a loss
of $8,000.

Mr. DeTreville said the raise in salary was after both Directors Dalton and Dietrich had been consulted
and the minute book of March 1, 1905
showed where the previous minutes
were "read and approved," Mr.
Dietrich being then present. Mr.
DeTreville made a general denial of any wrong-doing in the affairs of the mill. He said the records were open to the inspection of the directors, but Mr. Dietrich stated that on one occasion he was not shown the record book when he asked to see it.

Mr. Galbreath's testimony was in most matters a corroboration of Mr.
DeTreville's.

The evidence of the prosecution
and the defense is conflicting in many important details and the jury
will have to pass upon a mass of statistics and arrive at a verdict
through a volume of testimony.

The defense closed at 2 o'clock
and argument was begun yesterday
at 2:30, Mr. J. W. Downer making the first speech. There will be two or more speeches on each side and
the case will go to the jury today.

had to be dressed by a surgeon.

No Need to Stop Work.

When your doctor orders you to stop work, it staggers you. "I can't" you say. You know you are weak, run down and failing in health
day by day, but you must work as long as you can stand. What you need is Electric Bitters to give tone,
strength, and vigor to your system,
to prevent breakdown and build you
up. Don't be weak, sickly or ailing
when Electric Bitters will benefit
you from the first dose. Thousands bless them for their glorious health and strength. Try them. Every bottle is guaranteed to satisfy. Only

Brashear and his Young Wife
Made Their First Telescope

(From the article on John Brashear, the Great Instrument Maker,
by Edwin Tenney Brewster, in Mc-CLURE'S MAGAZINE for April.)

The fact that the Brashears had
no money to buy a telescope was no
permanent obstacle—they went to work to make one instead. They set up a little shop, with a tiny engine and a lathe. Together they made the tubes and ground the lenses, husband and wife working
side by side, she hardly less deft
than he. Every evening, after his ten-hour grind at the rolling mill
was over, John Brashear hurried up
the hill to his home up on the South side, to find his shop in order, the engine cleaned and oiled, with steam
up, ready for the evening's work.
First came a wash up, with very careful attention to his hands and nails, for lens-grinding is delicate
work and some particle of dust or grime from the mills might have fallen on the polisher and ruined the glass. He used even, resolutely, to wash his hair every night, no matter
how tired he was, to avoid any risk
of this kind. Then, supper over, he ground and polished and tested till midnight, till one, till two o'clock
in the morning; then a hurried tumble
into bed, a few hours' sleep, and up,
when the five o'clock whistle blew,
for another day's toil at the mill, and
another happy evening in the little shop.

Three years they spent on their first five-inch glass. When it was nearly done, Brashear, then a man
past thirty, wrapped the precious
object in a red bandanna handkerchief, and carried it across the river
and up the hill to the Allegheny Observatory, to get the advice of Langley, who was then director, as to the final corrections to be made upon the glass. When at last the telescope was done, he and his wife
set it up in the attic of their little house, and, having cut a hole in the roof, invited their friends and neighbors in to have a look at the planet Saturn.

The Kind You Have Always Bought

MUST HAVE SELF-CONFIDENCE

Every Youth Should Be Brought Up to Think Well of Himself If He Would Succeed.

Many children go from school and college knowing a great deal, but without a bit of improvement in
their self-confidence, their initiative.
They are just as timid, shy and self-depreciatory as before entering. Now,
what advantage is it to send a youth
out into the world with a head full
of knowledge, but without the confidence or assurance to use it, or the ability to grapple with life's problems with that vigor and efficiency
which alone can bring success?

It is of the utmost importance
that every youth should be brought up to think well of himself, have great confidence in his ability. He should be reared in the conviction
that he was intended to fill a place
in the world which no one else in the world could fill, that he should expect it, and train himself for it. It is a sin to shake or destroy a child's self-confidence, to reflect upon his ability or to suggest that he will never amount to much. These discouraging words, like initials cut in the sapling, grow wider and wider
with the years, until they become great ugly scars in the adult.—Success Magazine.

CRAZE FOR FREAK FASHIONS

Bird Petticoat, Menagerie Stocking
and Snapshot Shoe Are the Latest Fads of the Women.

Now that the hobble skirt is becoming somewhat frayed and the novelty is wearing off we are to have a bird petticoat. We already have
the little angel hat, the jockey cap,
the snake hat, the coal-scuttle chapeau, the Quaker bonnet, the torpedo toque and the animal veil. As if
that list was not sufficiently terrible,
there is also the menagerie stocking
and the snapshot shoe. These are absolutely the latest freak fashions.

The menagerie stocking is made of silk, lisle or homely cashmere. Up the leg and across the instep animals
are worked in natural colors.

The bird petticoat—which heralds
the return of flounces—is an ordinary petticoat, as skimpy as possible,
with a deep flounce. This is covered with size-sized birds of every hue and description. Peacocks, reproduced
in their dazzling glory; blue birds,
pink birds, humming birds, even condescending canary birds are in enormous request.

PROSAIC GHOST.

Mr. Alfred Tennyson Dickens, the eldest surviving son of Charles Dickens, related some interesting reminiscences of his father, in the course
of an address, in London recently,
on "My Father's Life and Works."
The life at Gad's Hill provided the lecturer with several anecdotes. One related to a ghost which haunted a neighboring piece of waste land, on which stood a monument to a Cavalier named Charles Larking. As the maidservants all threatened to leave,
Dickens, armed with a double-barreled gun, and his two sons with bludgeons, set out to find it. Suddenly they saw a white object and heard an awful noise. Dickens cried out, "Stand fast, or I fire." It proved to be an asthmatical old goat.

ADVERTISING GENIUS.

The boy of the family, the smart
little son of an editor, had just passed his ninth birthday and delighted in stirring things up whenever he found a chance. On his way to school one day he popped into a confectioner's.
"Say, mister," he called out, "do
you keep fondants?"
"Oh, yes," replied the confectioner,
"we've kept them for years."
"Well," returned the boy, starting
for the door, "just advertise in pa's
paper, and then you won't keep them
so long."

INTERESTING ANTIQUE.

"Fine old inn, sir," commented
the host. "Everything in this house
has its story."
"I don't doubt it," remarked the grouchily tourist, "And is there any legend connected with this old piece
of cheese?"

NOT GEORGE.

"George, I wish you would go down to the kitchen and fire the cook."
"Not George. That is the very thing I had the speaking tube put in
for."

BEAUTY REGULATED BY HEAT

Photographer Must Have His Studio
at Just the Right Temperature
for Wise Woman Patrons.

The photographer's schedule was disarranged half an hour because it took that long to get the studio exactly at a temperature of 70 degrees,
says the New York Press.

"And the thermometer had to register just that before the woman who had made an appointment for three o'clock would consent to pose," he said. "Women who sit for photographs are very particular nowadays
about the temperature of the room.
Beauty doctors have discovered that
a woman's good looks are regulated largely by the thermometer. There is a certain degree of heat or cold
at which every woman looks her best. By experimenting the beauty specialist has found the becoming temperature for each of his patrons,
and when the women visit a photographer no power on earth can persuade them to sit in a studio whose
air is above or below that figure.
When you handle a succession of subjects whose beauty temperature
varies from 60 to 80 degrees it is not an easy matter to regulate atmospheric conditions on short notice."

WAS SURE OF THE SAUSAGE

Butcher's Recommendation of Other Meat as Tender Didn't Appeal to the Young Married Man.

At Battle Lake a young man of
mild and embarrassed manner proposed to the most broad gauged, determined and commanding woman
in the place and was snapped up.
Husband made two small bursts of speed for independence. He found his rightful place inside of ten fore-ful minutes. All the neighboring women admired and envied the wife's control and wondered how
she did it.

One night recently his wife gave him 15 cents and told him to get
some meat, and her parting injunction was:

"Don't you come home with meat
that isn't tender or you'll hear from me."

The young man ordered a piece
of steak.

"Is that steak tender?" he asked.

"Tender!" replied the butcher.

"Why that's as tender as a woman's heart!"

The pale young man shuddered,
looked around the shop and said:

"I'll take some sausage meat."

TELLING FAIRY STORIES.

Society women are finding a new outlet for their mental activity in the art of telling fairy tales to children. And it is an art. The woman who thinks it isn't has only to try to learn how unreliable are the narrative powers of the inexperienced.
Mrs. L. T. Meade, author, is one of the several women who have proved their ability to hold an audience of youngsters by recital of fairy tales.
She has the gift to a remarkable degree, and it is said she never fails to keep a company of little folk quiet as mice when once she has launched herself in a thrilling account of the adventures that attend a journey
into the country that Alice found behind the looking glass.

AND DID THE HORSE LAUGH?

The old gray mare interfered considerably as she sped along the pike,
and flashes of fire flew from her
hoofs as her hind shoes clipped up against those on her fore feet.

"By gorry! Samantha," the deacon said, with a broad smile on his face as he noticed the flying sparks.
"Mebbe I can't afford to buy ye a hull otter-moble all to once, but s'long as we hev ole Marthy Washinton here they ain't no denyin' that we've got one o' the alfredest, most successful spark plugs in Pike county."—Harper's Weekly.

LOOKING AHEAD.

"My dear," says the husband, as
his wife comes to join him for a walk, attired in her hobble skirt, basket hat, and other things of the present mode, "I want you to come to the photographer's and have your picture made just as you are."

"Why, do you like me so well in this costume?" she beams.

"Well, my idea is that two years
from now I can show you the picture, and you will say the things
about it that I would like to say about your appearance just now."

A Strange Story.

Argyle, Mich.—Mrs. Wm. H. Car-
son, in a letter from Argyle, says:
"I was almost wild with pain in my head, and other severe pains, due to womanly troubles. Cardui gave me great relief at once. Further use of Cardui raised me from my bed of agony, Cardui saved my life, and I can't be thankful enough for what it did for me." Whether seriously sick, or simply ailing, take Cardui,
the woman's tonic. As a general
tonic for women, to improve the appetite and build up the constitution, Cardui is in a class by itself.
Those who have used it say it does
the work; it relieves, it cures. Try
it. Your druggist has it.

ANDERSON-FOWLER

DRUG CO. Incorporated

Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription

Is no "cure-all" humbug, but is made for just one purpose—to cure the weaknesses, painful disorders and irregularities of the womanly organism. It is

THE ONE REMEDY for these ailments, sold by druggists, devised and gotten up by a regularly graduated physician of vast experience in treating woman's peculiar diseases and is carefully adapted to work in harmony with her delicate organization, by an experienced and skilled specialist in her maladies.

THE ONE REMEDY for woman's ailments, sold by druggists, which contains neither alcohol (which to most women is the rankest poison) or other injurious or habit-forming drugs.

THE ONE REMEDY for women, the composition of which is so perfect and good that its makers are not afraid to print its every ingredient, in plain English on its outside bottle-wrapper, and attest the correctness of the same under oath—thus taking its users into their full confidence, and warranting physicians in prescribing it in their worst cases, which they do very largely.

It is foolish as well as dangerous to take medicine the composition of which you know nothing. Therefore, don't let a dishonest druggist prevail on you to accept a secret nostrum for this professionally approved medicine of KNOWN COMPOSITION. Every ingredient in its make-up has the strongest indorsement of the leading medical men of all the several schools of practice. Send postal card request for free Booklet of same.

Every woman may write fully and confidentially to Dr. R. V. Pierce, Buffalo, N. Y., and may be sure that her case will receive careful, conscientious, confidential consideration, and that the best medical advice in the world will be given to her, absolutely free.

In addition to this free advice, Dr. Pierce will send a fine French cloth-bound copy of his great 1000-page book, "The Common Sense Medical Adviser," to any woman who will send 31 one-cent stamps to pay the cost of mailing only.

Dr. Pierce's Pleasant Pellets regulate and invigorate stomach, liver and bowels. They work in harmony with "Favorite Prescription" when needed as a gentle laxative. Sugar-coated, tiny granules, easy to take as candy.

SHE WASN'T ENVIOUS

"There is one good thing about me, if I do say it myself," remarked the woman with the sharp nose. "I'm not envious nor jealous. There isn't an envious hair in my head, and I'm just sorry for people who are different."

"Take my sister-in-law, for instance. That woman is so afraid she won't be first in everything and have everything nicer than anybody else's that it has ruined her disposition. Not that she had any disposition to boast of at the start, though my brother Henry couldn't do a thing but rave about her sweet nature before he married her."

"She'd hardly got into their new flat before she was running down my dining-room rug to my face, just because hers wasn't as good. She did it in a polite way, of course. When I mentioned that I wouldn't give one body Brussels rug with roses like mine for ten dull, oriental things like hers she just smiled and said mine wouldn't wear nearly as long as hers and to some tastes my colors were crude. Just because she was sorry she had spent all that money—three times the sum I put in my rugs—and got nothing so good looking for it! She's kept hers all this time out of spite to make me think she is perfectly satisfied."

"She is perfectly foolish about spending money. Goodness knows, if I'd ask for it I could have lots more money to spend, but I don't believe in nagging your husband. She's got my brother so terrorized that he just hands money over as though he liked to, but I guess I can read between the lines. She makes my brother think she's delicate. I guess I know these slim, wiry women—they're as strong as a horse. She's not nearly so delicate as I am and there's no sense in her being pampered."

"She's just plain foolish over her complexion. I guess other people on this earth have had complexions as well as herself and, land knows, hers wasn't so awfully much! Why, when I was a baby—I've heard my mother say so many times—people used to stop her to exclaim over my complexion. 'Mrs. Perkins,' they'd say, 'it isn't natural for any human child to have a skin like that, an' you want to look out. You'll never raise her.' Of course, it wasn't natural, for it to stay so marvelous after I grew up, but if I sat with my back to the light it looked all right. Only I never boasted of it—and Miranda making such a fuss over her skin! She has my brother hypnotized into thinking it wonderful, too."

"Put on a veil, dear," he says to her when they go automobileing. 'I don't want you to ruin your face with the dust.' As if a dynamite blast could make her face look any worse than it does."

"It makes me sick to see a man so fooled by a woman who buys her complexion at the drug store and puts it on with a trowel."

"Some time when I get a chance I'm going through Miranda's top bureau drawer and pull out her rouge and powder truck and leave 'em lying around where my brother can see 'em. It's a perfect shame for him to be so deceived and so happy about it. You needn't talk to me about being able to see her color come and go—she just hypnotizes people into thinking it does."

"That electric car of hers is the worst! I've walked or taken the street cars all the days of my life, and if that's good enough for me it's plenty good enough for my brother's wife. Just because her father gave it to her that is no sign she shouldn't have been woman enough to refuse it. Loading my poor brother down with the expense of keeping it! Her father built the garage in the rear of their lot to keep it in and she says she and Henry take all the care of it themselves—but that's no excuse. It's just genuine, reckless, down-right extravagance, and it makes me sick. Why, I'm perfectly sure I could have six electrica if I'd ask for 'em, but I have too much sense and a better idea of my duty to my husband."

"Miranda drove around the day after she got the electric and said she'd come to take me for a ride, but I wasn't going to let her have the pleasure of gloating over me and thinking she had so much more than I did. She just wanted to show off before my neighbors and have them pitying me because I didn't have things like my brother's wife."

"So I said: 'No, thank you, Miranda. I have my duties at home to attend to, as a good wife should, and I've no time to go flying around town, when I might be better employed in darning my poor husband's socks, who is working hard at his office.' I said it pointedly, too, but I don't believe she took it to herself, she's so satisfied with everything."

"But she can't bear to see me have anything she hasn't got. You ought to have heard her admire my new foulard dress—you'd have thought she meant it, but I knew it was just that she was trying to hide the jealousy in her soul."

"Thank goodness, if I do say it, there isn't any envy in me!"

Art and the Real Beef

A bull calf recently sold for $10,000. Of course, it may be art heresy to say so, but isn't this just as sensible as to pay the same amount for a dinky "Bull Calf" by a doubtful old master?

HE DID HIS BEST

Not even Melville's most intimate friends realized the loathing with which the sight of his evening clothes inspired him. When hurried into it by wifely authority he would don the abhorred garments, but his excuses for avoiding all social functions which involved wearing the festal garb were puerile, infantile, maudlin.

According to his wife's ideas his efforts to avoid wearing his evening clothes were not only out of all proportion to any possible discomfort he might suffer when he had them on, but they were a positive evidence of degeneracy.

However, when that particular subject was mentioned, she always said: "You know I love my husband dearly. He is the best man in the world, but there are times when I really want to do him some bodily injury. His absolute indifference to his appearance is simply maddening. He doesn't care how he looks. As long as he can be clean he'll just as soon wear any old thing anywhere. It's perfectly nerve racking."

Melville seemed quite pleased with the idea of attending his sister's wedding in the small town where his parents lived until Mrs. Melville casually mentioned that he must have his evening clothes pressed in preparation for the visit.

"Why," he protested, "half the men that'll be there won't know a dress suit when they see it. I'll feel like a ringtailed monkey."

"Stuff and nonsense!" returned Mrs. Melville. "The people down there are as particular about their dress as we are, and more so. People in small towns always dress right up to the latest thing."

So Melville's dress suit was sent to be pressed.

Mrs. Melville was slightly suspicious of the sudden accession of helpfulness that caused her husband to offer to pack his own suitcase the night before their little trip. Being a wise woman, she kept her weather eye on him. Thus she was just in time to see him going through some rather wonderful gymnastics in an effort to fasten his suitcase with one hand while he meditatively dropped his evening clothes in an obscure corner of the closet. She said nothing. She merely transfixed him with a stony glare. The clothes came meekly out again and were sadly deposited in the suitcase.

Melville carried both his own suitcase and his wife's down to the office in the morning, where Mrs. Melville was to join him just before luncheon time. They were to take luncheon together, which would leave them ample time to reach the train. They were about half way to the train, when Mrs. Melville suddenly clutched her husband's arm.

"Tom," she ejaculated, sternly, "where is your suitcase?"

Melville looked silly and Mrs. Melville contemptuous.

"You must have left it in the restaurant," she said. "Don't waste a minute! Run back and get it!"

So Melville sped back to the restaurant and then reached the station, suitcase in hand, just in time to board the train.

"It's mighty funny," he said, sheepishly, "how I came to forget it like that."

"Yes, wasn't it amusing?" replied Mrs. Melville, caustically.

It was not until they had reached the house and were being regaled with tea and conversation that the second loss of the suitcase was discovered.

Everybody ran about excitedly for a while—everybody, that is, except Mrs. Melville, who sat with an inscrutable smile on her face, calmly sipping her tea.

Melville, apparently in great anxiety, telephoned to the livery stable from which had come the carriage which had brought them up from the station. He also telephoned to the station.

"I might telegraph to the train," he said, finally, "but it's a through train from here on and I don't know where a telegram would intercept it."

Mrs. Melville sat down her teacup and gathered up a few crumbs of cake that had escaped from her saucer. "I wouldn't bother," she said, sweetly, "to take all that trouble."

Melville turned to her with a radiant smile. "All right, Mary," he beamed. "If you don't mind, I'm sure I don't. I'll tell everybody how I happen to be wearing my old business suit instead of my beautiful glad rags."

There was a gleam in Mrs. Melville's eyes as she rose majestically, triumphantly and went out into the hall. When she returned she had over her arm, folded neatly, the detested evening clothes.

"Tom, dear," she said, "I was afraid something might happen to your suitcase, so after you went to bed last night I took all the most necessary things out of it and put them into mine."

Melville's face, which at his wife's appearance with the garments had grown at least two inches longer, dropped more and more as she proceeded. At the close of her speech, with a cloyingly sweet smile, she laid the clothes upon his hopeless and unprotesting knee.

"Well," he said, finally, "I cease to struggle. I suppose this is what you call fate."

"No, Tom," replied his wife, decidedly, "it isn't. It's what I call total depravity."

CURRENT COMMENT

CRAM OF NEWS COMPILED AND COLLECTED FROM ALL SOURCES

The Globe Printing Co., of Louisville, was thrown into bankruptcy this week. It was owned by Henry Bacon and other Democrats.

Judge Wm. M. Reed still has his ear to the ground and may say something to-day when he returns from Mayfield to his home in Paducah.

President Taft wants Congress to postpone tariff revision until next winter, to give the new Tariff Board a chance to collect data. The Democrats will probably want to begin at once.

The night rider cases in the Christian circuit court are a thing of the past. The acquittal of Dr. Amoss put a quietus on all trials of others under indictment on night rider charges.—Owensboro Inquirer.

Never think it. The fight to redeem Kentucky's good name has just begun.

Akin Renominated.

R. H. Akin has been renominated for representative from Caldwell county, without opposition.

The Annual Raise.

Judge Bradley, of Hopkins county, is trying to get a 15 per cent raise of its taxes by the State Board reduced to 5 per cent.

Still Published.

The Auburn Advocate has not been consolidated with the Russellville Democrat, but is still being published by its new owner, T. S. Brizendine, at Auburn. Mr. Brizendine will run both papers.

Contracts Awarded.

Contracts were awarded in Louisville Monday for the erection of eight structures near Simpsonville, Shelby county, to be used by the Lincoln Institute, organized to take care of negro pupils barred from Berea College by law against racial coeducation.

Enigma Explained.

President Taft returned to the White House Monday after his spring vacation, and immediately received Mexican Ambassador La Barra for a long heart-to-heart talk. It is understood he made plain the reason for the Texas mobilization, and further reassured the diplomat of America's friendly intentions.

Old Question of Dough.

There will be an effort made by the lovers of baseball to have a team in the Kitty League this season. C. C. Gosnell has written to persons here that he would like to place the Vincennes franchise in this city. A mass meeting will be called one day this week and the matter will be discussed.

If the fans can possibly get the

Deafness Cannot be Cured

by local applications, as they cannot reach the diseased portion of the ear. There is only one way to cure deafness, and that is by constitutional remedies. Deafness is caused by an inflamed condition of the mucous lining of the Eustachian Tube. When this tube is inflamed you have a rumbling sound or imperfect hearing, and when it is entirely closed, deafness is the result, and unless the inflammation can be taken out and this tube restored to its normal condition, hearing will be destroyed forever. Nine cases out of ten are caused by Catarrh, which is nothing but an inflamed condition of the mucous surfaces. We will give One Hundred Dollars for any case of Deafness (caused by Catarrh) that cannot be cured by Hall's Catarrh Cure. Send for circulars free.

Henderson Working Hard.

Harlan Johnson, a younger brother of Lyman Johnson, last year's premier pitcher, has been signed by Manager C. C. Gosnell of the Vincennes franchise. Johnson lives at Alton, Ill., and was a phenom in semi-pro baseball circles in that part of Illinois. The contract was returned today.

Mr. Gosnell stated that Henderson was working hard to get the Vincennes franchise and that there is no doubt but that they will get the team.—Vincennes Sun.

Harrisburg Getting Ready.

Fans at Harrisburg, Ill., are busy raising a subscription of $2,000 to maintain a team in the Kitty League the coming season. Of this sum $750 has already been raised. The business men, fans and miners are responding liberally, and the sum undoubtedly will be raised.

Manager Ira Hastings, who will pilot the Harrisburg team, is on the scene, and will begin assembling his team next month. The officers of the Harrisburg Association are:

President, W. G. Sloan; vice president, E. H. Largent; secretary and treasurer, William H. Parish.

HAIR-CLIPPING EPISODE

Peace is Restored at Louisiana College.

Baton Rouge, La., March 22.—The final chapter in the recent hair clipping escapade at the Louisiana State University was written when the board of supervisors of the university, by unanimous vote, adopted resolutions acceptable alike to the students and the authorities of the institution. While the board accepted the disclaimer by the students that they did not consider hair clipping a form of hazing, President Boyd's action in punishing the participants in the affair was sustained. Before an agreement was reached to submit the question to the board of supervisors, 230 members of the student body left the institution. Later all returned and agreed to abide by the decision of the board.

SERIES OF MEETINGS

At Cumberland Presbyterian Church Still in Progress.

The meeting at the Cumberland Presbyterian church is still in progress and will probably continue until Sunday. Large crowds attend each service.

There is much interest and the series will be productive of much good. Services are held at 3 o'clock in the afternoon and at 7:30 at night.

AMUSEMENTS

The Laugh Factory.

A wide awake, rollicking, rousing performance, Coburn's Greater Minstrels return each season with better singers, cleaner fun, more novel and comedy features, than all the others combined. A courteous, reliable manager, hustling, energetic performers, the latest in song and story, there is never a dull moment in this big fun show. There are bigger companies, more pretentious advertisers, but there is not a more enjoyable, laughable, dependable minstrel attraction in America. It's the newest, swellest, best, and never disappoints.

Friday night, March 24, at Holland's Opera House. Don't forget the date.

The proof of the bluffer is in his failure to make good.

TAX ON BACHELERS

Stork Mayor of Alton Has Bill in Legislature.

Springfield, Ill., March 22.—Convention of race suicide, encouragement of increase in population and the taxation of bachelors are the features of two bills which will be introduced in the senate tomorrow by Senator Beal, "stork mayor of Alton."

The first or anti-race suicide bill, provides for the payment of $100 to the mother of each child born within two years after her marriage, and for each additional child born every two years. The premium on twins is fixed at $200 and on triplets $300.

The other bill places a tax of $10 a year on bachelors over 35 years of age, the amount to be set aside for the payment of premiums to mothers.

LOST—Brown overcoat between Tom Hale's, on Johnson Mill road, and Hopkinsville. Finder will be rewarded. E. W. COLEMAN.

BIG BILL REED FOR GOVERNOR

Enters The Contest As The Harmony Candidate of
All Factions.

ELEMENT OF STRENGTH

Believed That All Anti-Machine Democrats Will Rally to His Support

Paducah, Ky., March 22.—Judge Wm. M. Reed, circuit judge of this district, to-day announced his candidacy for Governor in the Democratic primary of July 1. The decision was the result of a conference held in Louisville Tuesday, after which Judge W. A. Berry made the following statement:

"I am authorized to say for Judge Reed that he will be a candidate for the Democratic nomination for Governor, and he will make his formal announcement in the Paducah News-Democrat, his home paper, tomorrow morning. The persistent pressure which has been brought to bear on Judge Reed from all sections of the State and the irresistible demand of the people of his own district that he become a candidate has been so great that he feels that he should not resist what seems to be a universal demand upon him."

Judge Reed is highly qualified for the office. He is sixty years of age and has been on the bench at Paducah for seven years. He formerly lived at Benton and served three terms in the State Legislature. He has never been identified with any faction in the party and his friends hope he will bring about harmony.

CAPT. C. H. TANDY

Has Been Selected to go to Mexican Border.

Frankfort, Ky., March 22.—The first three Kentucky militiamen who will view the army maneuvers were today selected by Gov. Willson and Acting Adjutant General Bassett as follows:

Major Hibbitt, of Louisville.
Capt. Sams, of Lexington.
Capt. C. H. Tandy, of Hopkinsville.
Twelve other officers will visit the camp of instruction later.

ANTE-NUPTIAL WISDOM.

A brilliant Baltimore girl the other day announced her engagement to a man of no attainments whatever. "Why?" queried her friends, perplexed; "why?" "Because I am a very jealous nature," responded the wise one. "If I married a handsome man I know I should be wildly jealous of him. If he were attractive to other women I should be miserable. I am going to marry a man whom no one else will look at, and be happy."

LIKES TO RIDE HORSEBACK.

Hiss Helen Taft is a splendid horse-woman and recently went on a horseback trip through Virginia with Mrs. Herbert Wadsworth as the chaperon of the party. She has had all sorts of pleasant experiences in this, her first winter in society, but says that nothing is more delightful to her than horseback riding.

MRS. HARRIET CLARK

Quickly Succumbs to Stroke
of Paralysis.

Mrs. Harriet F. Clark, who suffered a stroke of paralysis Sunday, died Tuesday night, at the home of her grandson, Mr. E. S. Long, 700 Walnut street, in the 83rd year of her age.

Mrs. Clark was the widow of the late Esquire Jas. M. Clark. She was twice married, her first husband being Mr. Kelly. One daughter from her first marriage, Mrs. Edward B. Long, survives her.

She was a member of the Christian church and was a woman of the loveliest and most devoted christian character, greatly beloved by a wide circle of friends.

For many years she had made her home with her son-in-law, Mr. Long, and when the home place was sold recently she was preparing to move with her grandson to a new home on Hopper court. Funeral arrangements had not been made last night. Interment will be in Riverside Cemetery some time today.

MR. BATTS INJURED.

Limb Broken in Accident
While Loading Logs.

Mr. George Batts, a well known citizen residing near Edgerton, was seriously injured Tuesday morning while loading saw logs. Mr. Batts, together with some other men, was endeavoring to load a very large log when some part of the tackle gave way. The log had been gotten partly up the incline formed by two skids reaching from the ground to the top of the wagon bolsters when one of the skids gave way, catching Mr. Batts' legs, breaking one near the ankle and inflicting other injuries. The log was quickly removed and a physician summoned, but several hours elapsed before relief came.—Clarksville Leaf-Chronicle.

GREAT ORATOR

Is Albert Edward Wiggam,
Who Lectures To-night.

Wiggam, the Indiana orator, is at the Tabernacle to-night as one of the Lyceum Lecturers. The Evansville Courier says of him:

Albert Edward Wiggam, of Indianapolis, "struck twelve" before the big Men's Meeting at the Y. M. C. A. Sunday afternoon before a large and appreciative audience. He demonstrated at once that he is an orator born. He instantly riveted the attention of the great audience of men and held it for an hour with convincing logic and eloquence interspersed with sparkling anecdote, keen wit and sparkling humor. Like a master orator he held his audience responsive to every trend of his message and at the close he received an ovation that lasted several minutes.

HIS PRAYERS WITHOUT AVAIL

Finally Philadelphia Youngster Felt Obliged to Give Up the Struggle.

A young man who is prominent in church work in Philadelphia tells this about his nephew:

Harold is the youngster's name, and next door lives another boy by the name of Dewey. They are each seven years old, and like most children of their age are disposed to get into mischief as often as possible. Several days ago they found a man's coat lying on the front pavement while the owner was fixing a gas main. From the pockets of the coat the two boys abstracted several tickets, and when Harold's mother found it out she made him return the tickets and explained the sin which he had committed, warning him to pray that he be forgiven that night. He obeyed, and while on his knees added a prayer for Dewey as well.

The next night Harold's mother was in the next room when he said his prayers, and she heard him ask God to forgive Dewey for stealing a piece of cake. On the following evening he again was moved to ask forgiveness for his friend, this time for stealing three pieces of candy. Apparently his patience was exhausted, for the next evening his mother was in the adjoining room when he offered his evening prayer, and this is what she heard:

"Gosh darn it, God, I have done the best I could for Dewey. I guess you will have to watch him yourself."

A WOULD-BE WIDOW.

He (who has just proposed)—I hope you don't think that I am too old for you?

She—Oh, no! I was only wondering if you were old enough.

COFFEE AND TEA IN CAMP.

Coffee has its marvels in the camp kitchen. A low complacent grunt follows a mouthful drawn in with a gurgling, and the remark cast forth aimlessly, "That's good coffee." Then another gurgling sip and repetition of the judgment. "Yes, sir, that is good coffee." As to tea, there are but two kinds, weak and strong, the stronger the better. The only remark heard is, "That tea's weak," otherwise it is good enough and not worth mentioning. If it has been boiled an hour or two or smoked on a pitchy fire, no matter, who cares for a little tannin or creosote? They make the black beverage all the stronger and more attractive to tobacco-tanned palates.—John Muir, in Atlantic.

It takes a busy man to see through a joke and recognize the idiot behind it.

Women are apt to desire beauty more than brains but they know their own business.

The Poultry Yard.

There is no better time than now to set geese eggs. Set them under a hen, allowing her five eggs, which are about all she can conveniently cover.

Some folks are for ever planning ahead and figuring how to make chickens pay, and while they are pottering along with their plans and figures the hens and their broods are neglected.

No fowl is so hard to doctor as a turkey. A secret of success with turkeys, lies in avoiding inbreeding.

The baby chick trade has grown wonderfully. Twenty years ago poultrymen never dreamed of starting a business in that line, while now hundreds of these innocents are annually sent out.

As the nights are still cold it is advisable to give the hens but eleven eggs at time of setting them.

This affords the hen a better chance to cover and warm the eggs properly, bringing forth better results.

It's all right to have the brood coops wind tight but not air-tight.

It does not take much of a carpenter to put a pane of glass in a brood coop, and the chicks do better if they can have light when they must be shut up during cold, stormy weather.

DELIGHT FOR THE TOURIST

Summer Travel in Iceland Has Not Been Sufficiently Appreciated by Travelers.

Iceland! The name itself is a barrier to tourist travel. But let the tourist ignore prejudice and embark at Copenhagen or Leith, and he will find a delightful voyage over a smiling summer sea if he should go during June, July or August. He will be hardly more than two days out of sight of land—the far-reaching rock-bound coast of Scotland or the snow-crowned peaks of Iceland—but the journey across will occupy about four days. For his amusement the dolphins will tumble, the whales will spout, the seal will swim and the seabirds will fly; and there will be glorious sunrises and sunsets, with hardly more than two hours of night intervening. When he finally reaches Iceland he will see the sun set about 11:40 o'clock and rise again shortly after 12 o'clock, the golden glow of the sunset mingling with the golden glow of the sunrise.

All these delights cannot be assured to the winter traveler to Iceland. In fact he will be obliged to keep his lamp burning until 10:30 in the morning and then to light it again at two o'clock in the afternoon.—Mrs. W. F. Crafts, in Christian Herald.

RATS MAKE NEST OF BILLS

Experts at Washington Called Upon to Redeem Much Mutilated Greenbacks.

Chewed to small bits by rats, a bundle of bank notes was so badly mutilated that when the bills were presented for redemption at the New York United subtreasury the officials were unable to determine their denomination and had to send them to Washington, where the government experts will examine them and fix their value.

Henry B. Krause, who keeps a stall in the Oxford market, presented the bills. He said he had kept them in a drawer in his desk at the market and did not know how much he had put in. He placed the bills in the drawer as a nest egg to draw upon when he needed money urgently. When he opened the drawer recently a heap of green bits of paper met his gaze. At first he imagined he had been robbed, but closer investigation revealed the fact that the notes had been chewed to pieces and that the rats had built a nest of them.

EVENTS THAT PASS US BY.

We can be but partially acquainted even with the events which actually influence our course through life and our final destiny. There are innumerable other events, if such they may be called, which come close upon us, yet pass away without actual results, or even betraying their near approach by the reflection of any light or shadow across our minds. Could we know all the vicissitudes of our fortune, life would be too full of hope and fear, exultation or disappointment, to afford us a single hour of true serenity.—Hawthorne.

MOTION OF THE "DIPPER."

It is explained that the rotation of the earth upon its axis causes all the stars of the sky to appear to move around the north and south poles of the sky each day. The "dipper" has this motion, with all the other stars. The rotation of the earth is from west to east, and the stars appear to move from east to west. Those stars near the north pole with us do not set or rise, but move toward the east in the lower part of their motion and toward the west in the upper.

SOMEBODY ELSE'S UNCLE.

Young Doctor—Hello. Don't believe I have met you since we were boys at school. You're looking prosperous.

Young Lawyer—Yes; a rich uncle died two years ago and I came into possession of nearly $100,000.

Young Doctor—Why, I wasn't aware you had a rich uncle.

Young Lawyer—Oh, he wasn't my uncle. He was the uncle of one of my clients.

TAKEN AT HIS WORD.

Creditor—Suppose I'll have to wait till the day of judgment for what you owe.

Worth Weight in Gold

Abingdon, Va.—Mrs. Jennie McCall, of this place, says, "I had been troubled with female complaints, for over ten years. I could not walk or stand on my feet, and had been almost confined to the house for a long time. I began to take Cardui, the woman's tonic, and now I can walk anywhere I want to go. Cardui is worth its weight in gold." This is a high estimate on a plain, herb medicine, yet there are thousands of women who would gladly pay this price for a remedy to relieve their suffering. Cardui has helped others. Why not you? Try it. Your druggist sells it, in $1 bottles.

GREENWICH TIME IN FRANCE.

The clocks of France are to be set back nine minutes and, according to the law of the land just adopted, in the future they are to count off the hours and the days, second for second, with the clocks marking Greenwich time in England. Paris lies to the east of the meridian 9 minutes 20.9 seconds, and she has always held independently to her astronomical difference. By a law passed in 1891 the time of Paris was made the legal hour for all of France, although the town of Brest, far to the west, has a difference of 27 minutes.

MONEY IN CEMENT.

Increasing use of Portland cement in Australia for construction work of all kinds makes it possible for the local manufacturers to secure over 100 per cent. profit on the cost of production.

THE LESSER EVIL.

On a celebrated occasion in Vienna, when there was much excitement in all the European courts over affairs of international moment, the French ambassador was suddenly recalled by his government. "It is a very grave affair, is it not," Prince Metternich was asked by a lady at a court ball, "this recall of the ambassador?" "Not so grave, I assure you, madame," the prince responded, "as it would have been if it had been the French ambassador's cook who was recalled. The ambassador can easily be replaced; but not his cook."

POPULAR CHOICE OF HYMNS

Methodist Church Members Make Selection, and Many Fine Verses Are Left Out.

The pastor of a Methodist Episcopal church in the United States recently, to test the popularity of hymns in the Methodist hymnal, selected 50 hymns—"the 50" in our hymnal that I would retain most heartily if compelled to part with the others." Each member of his congregation who cared to do so was asked to select from this list the ten which were "dearest" to him. "Nearer, My God, to Thee," led the popular vote. There were 113 votes cast for this hymn out of a total of 185. "Abide with Me" came second with 107 votes; "Jesus, Lover of My Soul" third with 92 votes. "I Love to Tell the Story" came fourth (89 votes). Close after this came "Lead, Kindly Light" (84 votes). The others chosen were: "Rescue the Perishing" (80 votes); "Rock of Ages" (75 votes); "Onward, Christian Soldiers" (67 votes); and "What a Friend We Have in Jesus" (61 votes). Four great hymns just failed to get into the list, each of them receiving more than 50 votes: "Love Divine, All Love Excelling," "Jesus as I Am Without One Plea," "Faith of Our Fathers Living Still," and "In the Cross of Christ I Glory."

THOUGHT GIRL WAS FLIRTING

Ticket Agent Fondly Imagined He Had Made a "Hit," but He Was Mistaken.

A very handsome little sixteen-year-old girl was taking her first trip with her mother from Canajoharie to Duluth. They arrived early at the Canajoharie station and the long lashed brown eyed little girl looked in wonderment at all. As her eyes were glancing from one object to another, they each time passed the young ticket seller behind the wicket. His eyes caught hers and he thought that she, like other girls, was probably flirting with him.

The mamma pretty soon asked her to go up and buy the tickets and to this she protested, but her mamma thought she could just as well begin to learn how to travel. So in her modesty she stepped up to the window and said: "Toduluth." The ticket seller said in reply, "Teddeldee, oh, you kid!"

MINCE PIE ON THE RUN.

When Mrs. Nellie Dougherty, who occupies a grocery at 107 Dupont street, Greenpoint, saw Frank Rittenhauser at 110 Greenpoint avenue and a pie disappearing through an open door she went in pursuit. Policeman McKillop joined her and captured the young man.

While the pursuit was in progress the youth, it is charged, was crowding pie into his mouth. The last part of the pie disappeared as the policeman brought him to a halt. The only evidence of a missing pie was what clung to the lips of the youth like a fringe.

Mrs. Dougherty, who came up, discovered what she declared was a currant and described the pie as having been a mince. When the prisoner was able to talk he blurted out that it was a mince pie and he wanted pineapple.—New York Herald.

DEDUCTION.

One day in the course of study the teacher had occasion to give a description of the republic of Peru. After describing its natural features, people, commerce, industries, products, etc., he gave his class a test to find out how much they remembered of what he had told them. Having received satisfactory replies to a number of his question, he asked: "Now, who can tell me what the principal products of Peru are?" Instantly there came from somewhere in the rear of the room the answer: "Prunes."

JUST A HABIT.

"I suppose, Eileen," she remarked to the new girl, with feigned indifference, "that you overheard my husband and me conversing rather earnestly this morning. I hope, however, that you did not think anything unusual was going on?" "Niver a bit, mum. Oi want had a husband meself, an' niver a day passed that th' neighbors didn't belave one or th' other uv us would be kilt entirely."—Success Magazine.

DON'T FORGET THIS

SOME KITCHEN HINTS FOUR GOOD RECIPES

WORTH BEING POSTED WHERE THEY CAN BE SEEN.

Some Directions That Are Household Words, and Some That Set Forth Ideas That Are New and Valuable.

Here are a few rules that it would be well to cut out and paste up in your kitchen. They are hints about affairs of that very important region of the home:

1. Wash a saucepan in plenty of hot water; but never wash cake tins or frying pans. Wipe them well with a piece of paper, which is afterward burned, and polish them with a dry cloth.
2. Stand saucepans, fish kettles, etc., in front of the fire for a few minutes after washing them so that they may be thoroughly dried inside. This makes them last longer and helps to keep them in good condition.
3. Pudding cloths, jelly bags and so on should be well washed, scalded and hung up to dry. It is not necessary to iron them, but they should be smoothed and folded before they are replaced in the drawer.
4. Add a little soda to the water in which you wash plates and dishes. The soda loosens the grease on them and gives the china a good shiny surface.
5. Never add soda to the water in which you wash silver. Use a wooden tub, with plenty of hot water and soap, and dry the articles with a soft cloth. If silver is carefully washed and dried, once a week will be found often enough to clean it with powder and a leather. Silver should be kept in a baize lined drawer or basket, for if it is laid on hardwood it is apt to be scratched.
6. Never put the handles of knives into hot water or they will split. If a knife has been used for cutting onions or any other strong-scented vegetable dig the blade of it once or twice into garden mold to remove the smell before it is washed.
7. If a pan is burned or blackened rub the inside of it with a hard crust of bread dipped in salt and afterward wash it with hot soda and water.
8. Be very careful to keep the lids of saucepans clean, for the flavor of one dish may cling to a lid which has not been washed and spoil a second dish which is prepared in the same pan.
9. After washing up wipe out the dish tub and allow it to stand by the fire till it is dry. The dish tub should be scrubbed with boiling water and soap at least once a week.

The Home

To keep butter sweet in warm weather pack the butter in a crock; make brine strong enough to bear up an egg, and pour over it.

To remove indelible ink: Take a small lump of cyanuret of potash, rub it on the ink stain, first dipping it in water, then rinse the cloth in cold water.

When baking cake, should the oven become too hot, set a basin of cold water in it.

For chapped hands: Wash your hands in sugar water; dry them with corn meal, night and morning.

Cleaning Compounds.

Mix one ounce of borax and one ounce gum camphor with one quart boiling water. When cool add one pint of alcohol. Bottle and cork tightly. When wanted for use shake well and sponge the garments to be cleaned. This is an excellent mixture for cleaning soiled black cashmere and woolen dresses, coat collars and black felt hats.

Molded Cranberry Jelly.

Molded cranberry jelly is made as follows: Cook one quart of cranberries and one cup of water ten minutes. Add two cups of sugar and cook ten minutes longer. Rub through a strainer into china mold. When cold turn out on plate.

Marshmallow Frosting.

Boil one-half cup sugar and one-quarter cup water until it "strings" or "threads." Pour this sirup over one beaten white of egg and one-quarter pound of marshmallows cut into fine pieces. Beat until they are melted and frosting is thick enough to spread.

Peppermints.

One cup sugar, one-quarter cup water, cook three minutes, flavor with one teaspoon vanilla, beat until it almost sugars, then put on greased paper with tablespoon.

Currant Jelly Sauce.

Boil three-quarters cup sugar and three-quarters cup water together four minutes. Then pour onto one-third cup currant jelly which has been beaten until soft with a silver fork.

DISHES THAT ARE BOTH PALATABLE AND CHEAP.

With Rice Used as the Foundation, Hostesses May Place Very Many Good Things Before Her Lunch-son or Dinner Guests.

Rice and Tomatoes.—One-half cupful of rice, one-half can of tomatoes, one onion, one-half green pepper. Boil rice about ten minutes, then add tomatoes, onion, and pepper, chopped fine. Cook twenty minutes, season to taste, add one tablespoonful of butter, and serve.

Chipped Rice and Beef.—One-half pound chipped beef cut fine, one tablespoonful of butter, one-half cupful of rice, two cupfuls of milk, one tablespoonful of flour. Soak beef if very salty. Fry it in butter for five minutes, add one tablespoonful of flour and stir until smooth, then add milk, stirring constantly to avoid lumps. Before taking off add the rice, previously boiled. Season and serve on toast.

Salmon and Rice.—One can salmon, one and one-half cupfuls of rice, one and one-half cupfuls of white sauce, salt and pepper to taste, one tablespoonful of butter. Make layers of rice, salmon, and white sauce, having white sauce on top. Put butter on top and bake fifteen or twenty minutes.

Chicken and Rice Croquettes.—One and one-half cupful of chicken, one-half cupful of rice, two stalks celery chopped fine, one-half pepper, green, already cooked, chopped, one egg beaten, cracker crumbs, one-half cupful white sauce or stock, salt and pepper. Mix all ingredients, make in balls and roll in egg and cracker crumbs and cook in hot lard five minutes.

Salt Mackerel, Cream Sauce.

Soak over night in lukewarm water, changing this in the morning for ice cold. Rub all the salt off and wipe dry. Grease your gridiron with butter and rub the fish on both sides with the same melted. Then broil quickly over a clear fire, turning with a cake turner, so as not to break it. Lay on a hot platter, keep warm until sauce is ready. Heat a small cup of milk to scalding. Stir into it a teaspoon of cornstarch, wet up with a little water. When this thickens add two tablespoons of butter, pepper, salt and chopped parsley. Beat an egg light, pour the sauce gradually over it, put the mixture again over the fire and stir one minute, not more. Pour upon the fish and let stand covered over hot water or oven till sending to table.

Helps to Lighten Work.

The well beaten yolk of an egg lightly brushed over the top of a pie will make the crust brown and shiny. Never use the fingers in pinching the edges of pies, as the heat from the hands will keep the crust from rising. A crisp crust on a cake may be made by adding a spoonful of ice water to the batter or dusting with sugar just before putting it into the oven. Rubbing the surface of the loaves with melted butter or lard, salted, will produce a soft, brown, tender crust on bread.

Farmers' Plum Pudding.

Put in a basin two cupfuls of flour, a pinch of salt, two level teaspoonfuls of baking powder and one each of ginger and cinnamon. Sift and mix well, then add one-half pound each candied peel, currants or raisins, or both currants and raisins. Next add one-half cupful of molasses, one-half cupful of milk mixed with one beaten egg and stir to a batter-like consistency. Put in a buttered mold and steam three hours, with buttered paper tied over the top in place of a lid.

Mutton Batter Pudding.

Two cups of milk, one large cup of flour, two eggs, neat squares of cold mutton freed from skin and fat, pepper and salt, some melted butter heated with tomato catsup. Make a batter of the milk, eggs and flour. Lay the meat in the melted butter, pepper and salt, butter a pudding dish, pour in a little of the batter, then add the meat soaked well in the butter; pour in the rest of the batter and bake one hour in a steady oven and serve at once.

Chocolate-Coated Raisins.

Raisins coated with melted chocolate make a unique confection to serve at the end of a dinner. Melt some sweet chocolate and dip fine, large raisins, seeded, into it. Let them cool and harden before serving. Small stoned dates of superior quality may also be coated with chocolate in this way. A candy dipper is a most convenient little utensil when dipping fruits or nuts into melted chocolate.

Pie Shell.

So many have trouble making a shell for a pie keep its shape. Turn a pie pan upside down, press the pastry on smooth and close, prick with a fork in several places. Bake. When you put it on a plate ready for the filling you have a nice, shapely shell.

Use for Coffee Cans.

Many people use the tin cans which coffee comes in for holding other articles. To save time in loosening the tops buy some of the knob handles which are used on kettle covers and screw into the center of the can cover.

WATERS HELD BY BIG DAM

Ethel Roosevelt Touches the Button Formally Opening
Arizona Structure.

DESERT RECLAIMED

Ex-President Participates in Dedication of Greatest Reclamation Project.

Roosevelt, Ariz., Amid the cheers of thousands assembled today to witness the formal opening of the second largest dam in the world, the Roosevelt structure across the canyon of the Salt River, Miss Edith Roosevelt, under the direction of her father, touched the button that sent the imprisoned waters of the Arizona river rippling through the vast system of canals that will transform this sun baked construction town and 250,000 acres of shifting desert sand into a veritable Garden of Eden.

The dam has been about five years in building. The foundation was surveyed May 13, 1904. The first stone was laid September 20, 1906, and the last stone was placed in position in the parapet walls February 6, 1911. The structure is declared to be the largest storage dam of its kind in the United States and, with one exception, the largest in the world. It is exceeded in size only by the Assuan dam on the River Nile.

There are 336,000 cubic yards of masonry in the dam, according to the records of the Reclamation Service, and 340,000 barrels of cement, manufactured from material found in the vicinity, were used in its building. The structure is of sandstone and cement, and rises 284 feet above the river. It is 1,080 feet on top and 170 feet thick at its base. An acre of ground is covered by the foundation alone. Running along the top, which is the length of about two city blocks, is a roadway 20 feet wide.

The dam forms a reservoir twenty five miles long and more than 200 feet deep. Its capacity is approximately 56,628,000,000 cubic feet, or, according to the offices of the Reclamation Service, enough water to submerge the State of Delaware in water one foot deep.

WILL IRRIGATE 250,000 ACRES.

The waters from the dam will be used to irrigate about 250,000 acres of land in the Salt River Valley. After the water leaves the dam, and before it reaches the point where it is to be used, it flows a distance of about sixty miles. It is then distributed throughout the land to be irrigated by means of a diversion dam.

The valley, it is said, will become one of the richest agricultural valleys in the world. Crops can be raised twelve months in the year. It is estimated by C. J. Blanchard, statistician for the Reclamation Service, that one full crop from this valley will equal more than the entire cost of the irrigation works. He declared that land that was not worth 1 cent per acre before the project was built, since its completion has risen in value from $100 to $1,000 an acre.

MASSIVE GATES.

The six massive gates of iron, which will control the outlet of the waters of the dam, each weigh 10,000 pounds. They measure four feet nine inches wide by ten feet high. They are divided into three "regular" and three "emergency" gates, the latter to be used only in cases of extreme floods.

The original town of Roosevelt, which was built by the people who went to the dam to work, now lies under about 220 feet of water. Its successor has been built higher upon the mountain slope.

The government road, which it was necessary to build before work on the dam could be begun, was guarded today for every mile of its length to provide against any possible mishap. It was cut for a greater part of its length out of solid rock, and skirts the edge of precipices at dizzy heights.

DISFRANCHISED.

Ohio Bribe-Takers Walk
All Night.

West Union, Ohio, March 22.—A dozen votesellers greeted Judge A. Z. Blair when he reopened the Adams county election probe. They came from the eastern part of the county, and had walked all night in order to be in court on time.

They were fined the customary $5.00 and disfranchised for five years.

The special grand jury which has been conducting the probe will convene tomorrow to make a general report, and then will be discharged until the April term of court, when the investigation will be resumed in earnest.

The decision of the Supreme Court upholding the probe has caused a general exodus from the county, and whereas a few weeks ago there were 400 voters still to be tried, less than 200 now remain, according to Prosecutor Stephenson.

BOOKER GETS INTO SCRAPE

Negro Educator is Accused
Of Peeping At White Woman
In New York

HEAD IS BATTERED UP

Carpenters Wife Thought
That He Was Watching
Her.

New York, March 21.—Dr. Booker T. Washington was not able to appear in the court today because of the injuries he received last night, according to his attorney, and the hearing of the charge against Albert Ulrich, the carpenter, arrested last night on the complaint of assault, was postponed until tomorrow. Ulrich was held in $500 bail.

Ulrich, a white man, maintains today, that he was acting within his rights when he pursued the negro educator for several blocks before a policeman appeared. Ignorant of the negro's identity, he declared that his wife had complained to him of a negro she had met in the hallway of their flat.

Dr. Washington, who was sent to Flower hospital, where sixteen stitches were taken in his scalp, asserted that his mission to that neighborhood was perfectly legitimate and that he had been made the innocent victim of a most atrocious assault.

Attorney Smith, who represents Dr. Washington, told Magistrate Cornele that his client had eleven wounds and that one of his wounds had caused a serious hemorrhage of the ear. A short affidavit was then made by Policeman Tierney, who brought Ulrich to court, and on this the prisoner was held in $500 bail.

A bond was furnished for Ulrich's appearance in court and he was released.

Dr. Washington who went to his apartments at the Hotel Manhattan after having his wounds dressed, told the policeman that he had received a letter from his secretary saying that D. C. Smith, the auditor of the Tuskegee College, of which he is the head, was in New York City and desired to see him.

This letter said Smith was stopping with a cousin giving the name and address, said Dr. Washington.

"On Sunday I attended church service twice and after speaking at one church in the evening I recalled the letter concerning Smith and decided to look him up. I discovered that I had left the letter in other clothes at the hotel but thought I could recall the name as something like Moore and the address as being in West 63rd street. I went there and began to look at the name plates on the letter boxes in the halls of the different houses, seeking the name of Smith's cousin. It was while thus engaged that I was attacked."

Ulrich, in an interview with the lawyer and other in court today said: "About 9 o'clock last night my wife took one of our dogs into the streets. We lived on the ground floor of the house No. 11 1-2 West 63rd street. When she returned she said that she had seen a negro in the hall and that he spoke to her. Mr. and Mrs. Revetts and Mrs. Knowles, friends of ours, were in the house at the time. I went out and saw a man in the hall. The man went out the vestibule door ahead of men, when I came out. Ulrich said he saw the negro reenter the hallway and later saw him "bending down at my door peeping through the keyhole." Ulrich said that the negro swung a blow at his jaw when he asked him what he wanted, and that then he went after the negro who fell twice in his efforts to escape.

This is the month the turkeys begin laying.

HAZING IN WORST FORM Student Placed in Rowboat Without Oars.

Chicago, March 22.—Students attending the Northwestern University placed George Buckshaw in a frail rowboat without oars today and cast him adrift in Lake Michigan while putting him through an initiating degree. A strong wind carried him two miles out in the lake and lifesavers rescued him when his craft was in danger of capsizing. Buckshaw's initiators fled after shoving the boat from shore.

How to the line, but see that the line is in the right place.
